Data Hiding – is protecting data from outside access, so it cannot be changed from outside.

Abstraction – is hiding data, where we decide which exact details of data should be hidden or shown to end user

Encapsulation – is capsulating data and it methods together to give controlled access to it. With it we can safely access and modify data .